

Supporting Partner Packages

The Semta Skills Awards celebrate talented individuals and organisations that make the advanced manufacturing and engineering sector one of the highest skilled sectors in the UK.

The awards recognise dedication to skills development and showcase those who have made a significant difference in their workplace.

The awards are not just about celebrating success but provide a platform to share best practice and inspire the careers aspirations of young people.

The Semta Skills Awards 2018 will take place on Thursday 1 March 2018 at the Park Plaza Westminster Bridge, London. The awards ceremony will be hosted by BBC presenter, journalist and engineering advocate Steph McGovern.

The Semta Skills Awards 2018 consist of nine award categories:

Don't just take our word for it!

We are proud to have so many fantastic companies involved in the Semta Skills Awards. These are just some of the things sponsors have said about the awards and why they get involved.

“We are proud to support the Semta Skills Awards, they play such an important role in encouraging the next generation of engineers. The awards recognise the achievements of many talented young people and we hope they provide inspiration to many more considering a career in the science and engineering sector.”

Arthur Connelly, Director Operational Systems, Rolls-Royce plc

“I welcome that the Semta Skills Awards provides a national showcase to recognise high quality commitment to skills by SMEs as well as larger companies, individuals and training providers.”

Jon West, Director, HR Manufacturing, Jaguar Land Rover

“The Semta Skills Awards recognise the hard work and dedication of everyone involved in providing the skills and competencies aerospace and other advanced manufacturing and engineering sectors require to ensure the UK remains competitive.”

Mark Stewart, HR Director and UK General Manager, Airbus

“We recognise that key individuals often play a critical role inspiring and motivating skills development in their organisations. We are delighted to support this award to recognise these exceptional people.”

John Whelan, HR Director, Programmes & Support, BAE Systems plc

“The Semta Skills Awards is the perfect platform to celebrate the UK's leading technicians who demonstrate that UK industries are among the best in the world.”

Philip Greenish CBE CEng, Chief Executive, Royal Academy of Engineering
